I have received
your kind & too
flattering letter with the proofs to type writing <sup>X</sup> I have taken a good deal of pains (being rather weak to day) to make a few cor

<sup>X</sup> and sent it to Mr. Cowell Ipswich

relation's ~~so~~ mysterious especially with regard to the Greek word, which I suppose many of you readers don't know <sup>I mean</sup> <sup>as αξαί</sup> cannot read,

I like your talk
very much —

I don't quite agree with you about authorities, I think

a wood or two claim
by the authority
of Hooker & Millen
& this cannot fail
to strengthen what is said; & even to interest the reader.
We ought to have quoted Kant, as authority for Rusay & Hinde's laudable
but S.T.C. will

perhaps do as well.
I hope the Article
won't seem very dull or high flying
to you now three of teachers — I must hope they will find it awfully interesting

Thanks for your kind father wishes so much
I enclose a copy of

Dear Mr. Mason

Here is a letter from W. James - We think it will be much better to have <sup>him</sup> come into meeting - but will give a nucleus of an audience, & we

Dear Prof. Brown
This is the paper
Please let me hear,
if you like it - and if so, get it in print, or as to let me have
it back in a week
for our meeting -
